About the Conference

The ICRIMST is an annual flagship event organized by Elavenil-ISTA in collaboration with leading universities and research institutions across India. The inaugural edition was hosted by Anna University, Chennai, and subsequent conferences have been successfully conducted at prestigious institutions including Periyar University, SSN College of Engineering, Bharathidasan University, Manonmaniam Sundaranar University, the University of Madras, and KPR Institute of Engineering and Technology. The 9th ICRIMST will be hosted by Sacred Heart College (Autonomous), Tirupattur, from 16–18 September 2026. The conference aims to highlight recent advances in Materials Science, Applied Sciences and Technology, with a special focus on the development of advanced materials, their characterisation, and their emerging applications across diverse scientific and industrial domains. ICRIMST 2026 will provide an exceptional platform for researchers, academicians, scientists, industry professionals, and students from around the world to exchange knowledge, present innovative research, and foster interdisciplinary collaborations. The conference offers participants an invaluable opportunity to interact with eminent scientists and leading experts while exploring cutting-edge developments that address current technological challenges and industrial needs. Building on the remarkable success of the previous eight editions, ICRIMST 2026 will feature keynote addresses, plenary lectures, invited talks, oral presentations, poster sessions, and product demonstrations, covering a broad spectrum of topics in Modern Science and Technology. In addition, a dedicated group discussion session will be organized to encourage scientific interaction, critical analysis, and collaborative approaches toward enhancing the quality and impact of ongoing research.

About the College

Sacred Heart College, Tirupattur, is a premier affiliated institution of Thiruvalluvar University. Established in 1951 by Rev. Fr. Joseph Carreno, a visionary missionary from Spain, the college is a minority institution founded and administered by the Salesians of Don Bosco. Beginning its journey with just 10 faculty members and 81 students, the institution has evolved over the past 75 years into a distinguished centre for higher education, postgraduate studies, and research. The college was granted autonomous status in 1987, enabling it to continually innovate its academic programmes and adopt quality-driven educational practices. Since its first accreditation by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) in 1999, the institution has consistently pursued academic excellence through periodic quality assessment, self-evaluation, and curricular reforms. This commitment has led to the introduction of several postgraduate and research programmes, significantly strengthening its academic profile. In recognition of its unwavering dedication to excellence in higher education, the college was reaccredited with an A++ Grade (CGPA 3.53) by NAAC in its fifth accreditation cycle (2024). The institution has also earned national recognition through its consistent performance in the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF), securing a place among the top 100 colleges in India for the past 4 years. This conference is a landmark event celebrating the Platinum Jubilee (75 years) of unwavering service, academic excellence, and commitment to the development of rural society in and around Tirupattur district.
